TASTING NOTES

Deep ruby-red colour with shades of violet. The nose is delicate and complex. Red ripe fruits, plums, figs, tee and species. The palate is smooth with notes of chocolate, dried plums and fine spices mixed with notes of leather. The soft and matured tannins provide an elegant structure. This wine has a high potential for aging gracefully in the bottle.

Ideal to Serve at 18°C with red meat, lamb, pigeon, foie gras, duck or bacon.

VINEYARD

Located within the Central Valley are the upper reaches of the Cachapoal Valley, one of Chile's historic winegrowing valleys. In this valley lies the town of Rengo that is protected by the mountain range that creates an area cooler and more arid than the rest of the valley. The Torreón de Paredes vineyard built on alluvial soil, is situated in the heart of this and is flanked by the mighty Andes, which not only provides a stunning backdrop to our winery, but also creates the dramatic contrasts between day and night temperatures which result in richer, juicier grapes.
